

Numb. 365.

The Daily Courant.

To and

Monday, July 13. 1713.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated July 14.

Barcelona, June 15.

THE 10th instant the Squadron of English Men of War returned hither from Port-Mahon, except one Man of War which lost her Main-Mast in the Passage by Streets of Weather, and was obliged to make back again to Minorca, but she is shortly expected here. The 11th arrived here likewise a Convoy from Naples, which had undergone very tempestuous Weather in the Voyage, and had spent some Days at the Island of Sardinia. Great Diligence is used here, to make all ready for imbarcating the Troops, which 'tis thought cannot be done till the End of the Month, because before that Time the Stables for the Horses cannot be made in the Transports. On Monday last Count Staremburg with most of the chief German Officers was treated magnificently by Admiral Jennings on board his Ship; and Yesterday the Count made a Treat for the Admiral and the principal Commanders of the Squadron. The 12th instant some German Commissaries, with a Commissary on the Part of the Queen of Great-Britain, set out from hence for Agramunt or Cervera, to settle with the Spanish Commissaries the Evacuation of this Principality. The Miquelets begin to be pacified and to submit to the present Government, upon Advice that King Philip will not only confirm to the Inhabitants of Catalonia their ancient Rights and Privileges, but continue the civil Administration in the Hands of Natives of this Country.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated July 14.

Genoa, June 24. By Letters from Barcelona of the 15th of this Month we are informed, that the Imbarkation of the German Troops was fixed to the 3d of July; that the transporting of them will be performed at twice; and that the English Admiral had assured General Staremburg, that if any Ships should by Streets of Weather be driven on the Coast of France, the Germans on board them shall not be treated otherwise than as Friends. Yesterday sailed from hence about 20 large Transports more, under the Convoys of an English Frigate, for Catalonia; the said Frigate having on board a very large Sum of Money which was remitted from Vienna, and is consigned to General Staremburg for the use of the Troops.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated July 13.

Hambourg, July 3. Prince Menzikof has put General Baur under Arrest, for slighting a certain Order of his, and caning the Commissary of War Nebel, who made his Complaints to the Prince. We have much talk here of a Project of Peace which the Bishop of Bristol the British Plenipotentiary at Utrecht has sent to the Swedish General Count Welling; but we cannot yet learn any thing particular of it, more than that the Hague, Lubeck, Bremen, and Hambourg, have been proposed for the Place of Congress. The Swedes say this Peace will be negotiated at London. The Swedes are borrowing 40000 Crowns here, to be employed with the 100000 that are remitted from Sweden, in ransoming their Army who are Prisoners of War. Letters from Stockholm confirm that the Princess Ulrica has been introduced into the Council of State, and that she has the first Voice in it.

Stein, July 3. The Generals Slippenbach and Arneheim arriving here the 29th of last Month, with one from the Duke Administrator of Holstein-Gottorp, and some Deputies of the States of Uckermark, communicated to General Meyerfeldt our Governour, an Order from General Welling to deliver this Place in Sequestration to the King of Prussia; but he refused it, declaring besides, that he was resolved to defend it well against all those who might come to insult it: 'Tis said the Governour of Wisnau having received a like Order, has made much the same Reply as General Meyerfeldt. Mean while 20000 Men of the King of Prussia's Troops are actually arrived in the Uckermark on the Frontier of Pomerania.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated July 14.

Hambourg, July 7. The King of Denmark took a Review at Gottorp on Monday last of his Regiment of Grenadiers, and the 5th in the Morning his Majesty set out for Copenhagen, being accompanied by the Counsellors of State Scheffler, Krabbe, Holst and Viereck, and 'tis said that within 15 Days he will return to Gottorp. The Muscovite Army is still encamped in the Country of Mecklenbourg. Prince Menzikof has released General Baur from his Confinement, and there seems to be a good Harmony between them; but General Baur persists in his Intention to quit the Czar's Service, and proposes to lay out 150000 Crowns on an Estate in Mecklenbourg and settle there. 2000 Danes are quartered at Bramstedt, and the rest of the Troops of that Nation are ordered to hold themselves ready to march, those excepted which form the Blockade of Tondingen. 'Tis said those Troops are to be employed in the Siege of Wismar. The Baron de Goritz, Minister of the Administrator of Holstein, set out last Sunday for Berlin, taking with him Remittances for considerable Sums, which makes it thought he proposes to make a long Stay there. The Danish Lieutenant-General Dewitz is likewise gone thither, and 'tis talked that several Ministers of other Princes will likewise repair thither, among them the Saxon General Flemming. All which Ministers are to urge his Prussian Majesty to take into Sequestration Pomerania and the Ducal Holstein; but Count Schonborn the Emperour's Minister does all he can to dissuade his laid Majesty from it. 'Tis advised from Copenhagen, that upon an Order which Vice-Admiral Scheffler had received from the King, he was sailed on a sudden with 16 Men of War of the Danish Fleet. They write from Berlin the 4th instant, that M. de Basswitz Minister of Holstein went from thence the 1st Instant for Stein, to dispose the Swedish General Meyerfeldt to evacuate that Place to the Prussian Troops to be kept by them in Sequestration, by Virtue of an Order from the King sent to him by General Count Welling, which General Meyerfeldt refuses to do without an Order sent directly from the King to himself, seeing his Majesty entrusted to him the keeping of that Place.
